WE EDUCATE TIMBER SPECIFIERS

Timber Queensland and WoodSolutions provide educational content to building professionals Australia-wide.

Together our trusted brands have delivered valued events, both face to face and in person, for over a decade.

While digital delivery has expanded reach, our members and event audiences are telling us the same thing: people are ready to reconnect in person.

Complex technical issues, evolving standards and real-world delivery challenges are best explored through direct conversation, informal discussion and trusted personal relationships.

This event is part of a renewed focus on bringing the industry back into the room — combining the impartial, high-quality education we are known for with meaningful networking opportunities that cannot be replicated online.

The audience is ready, the timing is right, and the relationships built now will shape projects well beyond 2026.

Over 75% of survey respondents reported "extreme satisfaction" with Timber Queensland's events

About the Event

Timber Performance in Practice: Moisture, Fire and Durability in Modern Timber Buildings is a practical industry seminar presented by WoodSolutions and hosted by Timber Queensland, bringing together leading experts and practitioners to address the performance challenges shaping modern timber construction.

As timber buildings continue to grow in scale and complexity, understanding moisture management, fire performance and durability has become critical to achieving compliant, resilient and high-performing project outcomes. Through technical presentations, case studies and industry discussion, the seminar will explore proven approaches to design, specification, construction and long-term building performance.

The event will attract architects, engineers, building designers, certifiers, contractors, developers, project managers, government representatives and industry stakeholders involved in the delivery of contemporary timber buildings. A dedicated exhibition and networking program provides exhibitors with direct access to the professionals influencing project decisions, material selection and building outcomes.

Why Exhibit

Connect with project decision-makers

Engage directly with architects, engineers, designers, certifiers, builders, developers and government representatives actively involved in specifying, approving and delivering timber construction projects.

Showcase expertise and innovation
